Module Overview

Essential Question: What can we learn about ourselves by observing and interacting with animals?
Quote: "We are not just rather like animals; we are animals. Our difference from other species may be striking, but comparisons with them have always been, and must be, crucial to our view of ourselves." — Mary Midgley
Big Idea Words (4): relationship, antisocial, bond, tension
Main Selections (workbook 4):

- Willie B.: A Story of Hope · Nancy Roe Pimm · Narrative Nonfiction (RI)
- Dolphin Parenting · from National Geographic · Video / Science (RI)
- Can We Be Friends? · Ellen R. Braaf · Magazine Article (RI)
- Winter Bees and Other Poems of the Cold · Joyce Sidman (illustrated by Rick Allen) · Poetry (RL)

Note. The SoT lists 33 core vocabulary items on Worksheet A (4 Big Idea + 9 Willie B.: A Story of Hope + 6 Dolphin Parenting + 6 Can We Be Friends? + 8 Winter Bees and Other Poems of the Cold), in myBook appearance order. This G5 Teacher's Guide labels each selection's panel "Critical Vocabulary" — the string "Power Words" does not appear in the source. The teacher "Vocabulary Strategy" boxes (multiple-meaning words such as pounds, sticks, pack, groom, rose, spots, raise) are NOT counted as core vocabulary. "Why We Watch Animals" is the module's Big-Idea Short Read / Informational Text (no Critical Vocabulary panel) and carries the 4 Big Idea Words; it is excluded from the per-selection workbook units. This module is INFORMATIONAL-HEAVY: three informational (RI) selections (Willie B., a narrative nonfiction; Dolphin Parenting, a science video; Can We Be Friends?, a magazine article) and one literary (RL) selection (Winter Bees, poetry), so B-section items use RI.5 codes for the three informational selections and RL.5 codes for the poetry.

Answer Distribution (85 Multiple-Choice Items)

Verified counts across Worksheets A (33), B (32), and D (20). Worksheet C is open-response IB and not counted in MCQ balance.

A · 22 · B · 21 · C · 21 · D · 21

These four totals are the count of correct-answer LETTERS (A/B/C/D) across all 85 multiple-choice items — exactly 22 are "A", 21 are "B", 21 are "C", and 21 are "D". Within each worksheet: Worksheet A = 9 A / 8 B / 8 C / 8 D (33), Worksheet B = 7 A / 8 B / 8 C / 9 D (32), Worksheet D = 6 A / 5 B / 5 C / 4 D (20). Correct-answer positions are SHUFFLED, not cycled — there is no A-B-C-D repeating pattern in any section. Correct-answer meanings and option texts are preserved from the Source of Truth; only choice order is rotated to balance the letters.

Voca Trap Items (Worksheet A)

10 of 33 = 30%, all flagged below. Trap pattern: opposite-meaning / wrong-field baits drawn from the natural meaning field of each word — no hallucination.

- Q2 antisocial — opposite bait ("want to throw a big party," "enjoy meeting as many people as you can") vs. "do not feel like being around other people"
- Q6 anticipation — opposite bait ("completely surprised," "trying hard to forget") vs. "expecting it to happen and excited or anxious about it"
- Q8 inhumane — opposite bait ("kind and gentle," "caring and warm-hearted") vs. "cruel and unfeeling"
- Q13 dominated — opposite bait ("obeyed and followed," "was weaker and gave way") vs. "was more powerful and controlled what the other did"
- Q19 status — wrong-field bait (sleeping place / food / distance) vs. "the level of importance it has within its social group"
- Q20 cowered — opposite bait ("stood up tall and bravely," "charged forward without fear") vs. "crouched or bent down in fear"
- Q23 restore — opposite bait ("change it into something completely new," "leave it exactly as it is now") vs. "change it back to the way it used to be"
- Q24 reconcile — opposite bait ("start a new argument," "stay angry and refuse to speak") vs. "make up after a disagreement"
- Q29 random — opposite bait ("follows a careful, fixed plan," "neatly placed in order") vs. "happens without a reason or pattern"

- Q33 resistant — opposite bait ("easily damaged," "soft and weak against harm") vs. "not harmed or affected by something else"

How Every Item Is Grounded

Every item on this Answer Key traces to the Source-of-Truth JSON for G5 Module 10, built from the Teaching Pal OCR (3,556 lines, 30 spread-pages) and verified against the PDF intro spreads (every Critical Vocabulary panel was read from a high-resolution crop, and each panel's rounded bottom corner was confirmed so no words are cut off). This OCR ends at the Performance Task and has no back-of-book Glossary, so all definitions come from the inline myNotes glosses. No characters, words, events, statistics, or dates outside the Source of Truth were added.

- Vocabulary (Worksheet A): all 33 words come from the module's Big Idea Words (4: relationship, antisocial, bond, tension) and the four "Critical Vocabulary" panels — Willie B.: A Story of Hope 9, Dolphin Parenting 6, Can We Be Friends? 6, Winter Bees and Other Poems of the Cold 8. Each meaning is taken from the inline myNotes glosses. The teacher Vocabulary Strategy boxes are deliberately NOT counted as core vocabulary.
- Terminology: this G5 Teacher's Guide labels each panel "Critical Vocabulary," not "Power Words" — the workbook uses that exact label, matching the source.
- Reading (Worksheet B): the 32 items are genre-matched. The three informational selections (Willie B., Dolphin Parenting, Can We Be Friends?) use RI.5 codes; the one literary selection (Winter Bees, poetry) uses RL.5 codes. Each correct answer is grounded in the Source of Truth; distractors are SoT-anchored, never invented. RI.5.4, RI.5.7, RL.5.4, and RL.5.7 are not used (note: Dolphin Parenting is a video and Winter Bees pairs poems with illustrations, but the media-to-text skills RI.5.7/RL.5.7 are excluded per the task spec). There are no "from the text" snippet boxes.
- Genre & credits: Willie B.: A Story of Hope = Narrative Nonfiction (by Nancy Roe Pimm; the true story of a gorilla, his keeper Charles Horton, and Zoo Atlanta director Dr. Terry Maple); Dolphin Parenting = Video / Science (from National Geographic; how baby dolphins learn echolocation, hydroplaning, and other skills from their mothers); Can We Be Friends? = Magazine Article (by Ellen R. Braaf; Owen the hippo and Mzee the tortoise, and biologists on cooperation and reconciliation); Winter Bees and Other Poems of the Cold = Poetry (by Joyce Sidman, illustrated by Rick Allen; five poems about how animals and plants survive winter). Only the OCR-excerpted text was used; no outside facts, figures, or plot beyond the excerpts were added.
- IB (Worksheet C): the PYP concepts — Change, Causation, Connection, Form, Perspective — follow the Source-of-Truth Essential Question ("What can we learn about ourselves by observing and interacting with animals?") and the module's Knowledge Focus ("Human and Animal Behavior"). The Essential Question text on Q5 matches the workbook word for word. Korean teacher guidance appears in Section C only; Sections A, B, and D are in English. No model answer adds a fact, statistic, or date outside the source — the IB model answers describe only what the OCR-excerpted selections actually show.
- MAP (Worksheet D): four NEW passages (202 / 194 / 200 / 203 words), RIT 205→225, Lexile 620L–1000L. None recall the four anchor selections; each is a different text on the module's theme of animal behavior and what we learn from animals (an elephant that remembers, why animals live in groups, a clever crow, and what bees teach us about teamwork). Two are narratives (Passages 1 and 3) and two are informational (Passages 2 and 4).
- Answer balance: 85 multiple-choice items distribute as 22 "A" / 21 "B" / 21 "C" / 21 "D"; positions are shuffled (no A-B-C-D cycle); every meaning is preserved from the Source of Truth.

MAP Mini-Passage Word Counts (Worksheet D)

- Passage 1 · The Elephant That Remembered · 202 words · Lexile 620–710L · RIT 205–211
- Passage 2 · Why Animals Live in Groups · 194 words · Lexile 760–860L · RIT 211–217
- Passage 3 · The Crow That Solved a Puzzle · 200 words · Lexile 820–910L · RIT 217–222
- Passage 4 · What Bees Teach Us About Teamwork · 203 words · Lexile 900–1000L · RIT 219–225

Word counts match the workbook passage meta exactly. All four within target band 160–230 words; RIT 205→225; Lexile 620L–1000L. Each passage is on the module's "the lives of animals" theme. Passages are NEW — no recall of the four anchor selections.

What This Module Does NOT Contain (Guardrails)

- No "Power Words" label — the G5 source says "Critical Vocabulary."
- No Worksheet E — this workbook series uses four worksheets (A · B · C · D).
- The module quote is by Mary Midgley (a real English moral philosopher, 1919–2018) and is the EPIGRAPH only — it is NOT a story author.
- "Why We Watch Animals" is the Big-Idea Short Read / Informational Text (no Critical Vocabulary panel) and is excluded from the per-selection units; it carries the 4 Big Idea Words instead. Its author is unverified — no byline in the source.
- Critical Vocabulary counts are 9 / 6 / 6 / 8 = 29. Big Idea (4) + Critical (29) = 33 total.
- The opener Get Curious video is "We Are Animals" — a separate opener video. The in-module VIDEO selection is "Dolphin Parenting"; the two videos are not merged.
- The topic strand is "SCIENCE CONNECTION: Animal Behaviors." Other modules (Module 9 "Unexpected, Unexplained," etc.) are OUT OF SCOPE and are not conflated with any Module-10 selection. The prior-module TOC bleed (Mr. Linden's Library, The Loch Ness Monster, Finding Bigfoot, The Secret Keepers, Why People Love Mysteries) is NOT part of this module.
- No outside facts were invented. Mary Midgley (epigraph author), Nancy Roe Pimm (Willie B. author), and Ellen R. Braaf and Joyce Sidman (illustrated by Rick Allen) are real; Willie B. (1958–2000) was a real gorilla at Zoo Atlanta, and Charles Horton and Dr. Terry Maple are real people; Can We Be Friends? recounts the real Owen-and-Mzee case (Kenya, 2004) and cites real biologists; Winter Bees and Other Poems of the Cold is a real published book. The one definition NOT lifted verbatim from the source is "coaxing" (no surviving inline gloss); a standard student-friendly gloss consistent with the body usage was used.
- Performance Task = "Write an Opinion Essay."

Worksheet C — IB Critical Thinking · Answer Key

5 questions · PYP Key Concepts · DOK 2–4

Q1 Change DOK 3

In "Willie B.: A Story of Hope," Willie B.'s life changes greatly. Show how his life was at the start and how it was at the end, then explain what helped him change.

MODEL ANSWER

Willie B. at the Start: Willie B. was captured "in the jungles of Africa in 1961" and brought to the United States, where he lived "in a twenty-five-by-forty-foot enclosure of concrete and glass." For almost three decades he lived in "solitary confinement," alone and apart from other gorillas. Dr. Maple knew this life "was all wrong." Willie B. at the End: Willie B. was moved to an outdoor rain-forest habitat. "For the first time in almost three decades," he "got to see the blue sky and the green grass and to inhale a breath of fresh, springtime air." He joined a gorilla troop, fathered "a new generation of gorillas," and "proved to be quite the 'family guy.'" What helped Willie B. change: Time, care, and people helped him. Keeper Charles Horton stayed "close by, coaxing him and telling him not to be afraid," and Dr. Terry Maple worked to build the new habitat. With patience and friendship, Willie slowly gained the confidence "to explore the new territory." What this shows: With time and care, an animal can recover from a hard life and change for the better.

KEYWORDS (3)

start = alone for decades in a small concrete enclosure end = outdoors with a troop, a "family guy"

change = time, care, and a coaxing keeper helped him

SCORING NOTES

- Full credit (3): the start + the end + what helped him change, with one detail.
- Partial (2): names the start and end but not what helped him change.
- Minimal (1): only "his life got better" with no detail.

Q2 Causation DOK 3

In "Dolphin Parenting," baby dolphins learn to survive. Show one skill a baby dolphin learns and how it learns it, then explain why this learning matters.

MODEL ANSWER

A Skill the Baby Dolphin Learns: In the video, baby dolphins learn survival skills such as echolocation (using sound, like sonar, to find things) and hydroplaning (a technique, or way of moving). These are skills they will need to find food and stay safe. How It Learns the Skill: The baby dolphin learns by watching and copying its mother. It mimics the mother's posture, movement, and actions, doing what she does until it can do the skill on its own. The video uses footage of dolphins in the wild and a narrator to explain how this learning happens. Why this learning matters: The skills matter because a baby dolphin must one day "fend for itself." As the video explains, "baby dolphins learn from their mothers how to thrive on their own." Without learning these techniques, a young dolphin could not survive after it leaves its mother. What this shows: By learning from its mother, a baby dolphin gains the skills it needs to survive on its own — much as young humans learn from those who raise them.

KEYWORDS (3)

skill = echolocation / hydroplaning (a technique)

how = by copying the mother's posture and actions matters = so the dolphin can fend for itself and thrive

SCORING NOTES

- Full credit (3): a skill + how it learns it + why the learning matters, with one detail.

Q3 Connection DOK 3

In "Can We Be Friends?," the author asks whether animals can be friends. Show one reason animals might be friends and one reason scientists are careful with that word, then explain how cooperation helps animals.

MODEL ANSWER

A Reason For: The article gives reasons that animals might be friends. The story of Owen, an orphaned baby hippo, and Mzee, a giant tortoise, shows two very different animals that "became constant companions" after a flood. The author also notes that "many kinds of animals, from insects to primates, benefit from living in groups," and that some animals reconcile, or "make up after a disagreement," the way friends do. A Reason to Be Careful: Even so, "many scientists hesitate to use the word 'friend' to describe a relationship between nonhuman animals." "Friend" is a human word, and scientists are careful about using it for animals because they cannot be sure animals feel friendship the same way people do. How cooperation helps: The article explains that cooperating and playing together help animals survive. "Playing together... helps forge important social bonds that keep an animal within the safety of the group," and friendly reunions "help restore relationships and ease tension." What this shows: Whether or not we call it "friendship," animals that cooperate and form bonds stay safer and survive better together.

KEYWORDS (3)

for = Owen and Mzee, animals benefit from groups careful = "friend" is a human word scientists hesitate to use helps = bonds keep animals safe within the group

Q4 Form DOK 3

In "Winter Bees and Other Poems of the Cold," the poet shows how living things survive winter. Show what one animal or plant does to survive and the feeling the poem creates, then explain the poem's message.

MODEL ANSWER

What the Animal or Plant Does: In "Winter Bees," the bees survive the cold by clustering together and working as one group. The poem says, "We are an ancient tribe, / a hardy scrum... we are nothing on our own. / Together, we are One." (Another good choice: in "Dream of the Tundra Swan," the swans migrate, flying away in V formations as winter comes; or in "What Do the Trees Know?," the trees bend in the wind and let go.) A Feeling the Poem Creates: The poem uses sensory and figurative language to create a feeling of togetherness and quiet strength. Words like "ancient tribe" and "Together, we are One" make the reader feel that the bees belong to one another and are strong as a group, even in the cold. The poem's message: The poem's message is that living things survive winter in their own ways, and that there is strength in togetherness — alone the bees are "nothing," but together they are "One." What this shows: Through poetry, the poet helps us feel, not just learn, how animals and plants survive the cold.

KEYWORDS (3)

does = bees cluster and work together as One feeling = togetherness and quiet strength message = living things survive winter; strength in togetherness

Q5 Perspective DOK 4

Essential Question: What can we learn about ourselves by observing and interacting with animals? Use ideas from TWO of the selections in this module to answer.

MODEL ANSWER

By watching animals, we can learn about feelings, bonds, and behaviors that we share with them. In "Willie B.: A Story of Hope," a gorilla who spent decades alone in a small enclosure slowly learned, with time and a caring keeper, to live with other gorillas and even fathered "a new generation." Watching Willie B. teaches us that, like people, animals can recover from a hard life and need company and care. In "Can We Be Friends?," animals such as Owen the hippo and Mzee the tortoise form bonds, and the author explains that "playing together... helps forge important social bonds." This shows us that cooperating and forming bonds help animals — and people — stay safe and survive. My Big Idea: By observing and interacting with animals, we learn that we are not so different from them: we both feel, form bonds, and need one another. As the Mary Midgley quotation says, "comparisons with them have always been, and must be, crucial to our view of ourselves." Watching animals helps us understand what we share with them and what makes us human — exactly what the Essential Question asks.

KEYWORDS (3)

Willie B. = animals recover and need company, like us

Can We Be Friends? = bonds and cooperation help survival

Big Idea: watching animals shows what we share with them

SCORING NOTES

- Full credit (4): two selections named + what each shows about animals and about ourselves + a Big Idea answering the EQ.
- Partial (3): two selections + what each shows, Big Idea weak.
- Developing (2): one selection only.
- Minimal (1): generic ("animals are nice") without naming a selection.

SYNTHESIS FRAME

SELECTION 1 IDEA	CONNECTING WORD	SELECTION 2 IDEA
Name the selection and what it shows about animals: Willie B. = an animal recovers with care; Dolphin Parenting = young learn from parents; Can We Be Friends? = animals form bonds and cooperate; Winter Bees = living things survive together.	BOTH / IN EACH — joins two selections (for example Willie B. AND Can We Be Friends?) into one Big Idea answering "What can we learn about ourselves by observing and interacting with animals?"	A different selection than Selection 1 — so the two together show more than one thing we can learn about ourselves from animals.

Approaching (2)	Names 2 selections but only retells events — no clear answer to the EQ.
Beginning (1)	Generic ("animals are interesting") without text evidence.

Push them to explain WHAT each selection shows about animals AND what that teaches us about ourselves (we feel, form bonds, learn from others, and need one another), then write a Big Idea that connects two selections. The EQ asks what we can learn about OURSELVES by observing and interacting with animals.

TEACHING STEPS

Step 1 · Two selection cards.

강사: "Pick 2 selections. For each, name what it shows about animals."

코멘트. 선택지 둘 — 각 작품이 동물에 대해 무엇을 보여 주는지 적기.

Step 2 · Name what we learn.
